

Mayor Kristie S. Overson

MAYOR'S MESSAGE

Dear Friends and Neighbors,

Among my assignments as Mayor is one that I consider of particular importance. It is my seat on the governing board of the Unified Police Department and specifically my service as the UPD Board Finance Committee Chair that has consumed my thoughts and countless hours spent in study and work over the last few months.

I greatly value the service that UPD provides to its communities, including Taylorsville, and I hope to see the UPD model continue to survive. I recognize the excellent police work provided by UPD, including especially the involvement and support by law enforcement officers of us at the community level. Our goals are the same, centering around the safety and well-being of our citizens.

My work of late has focused on finalizing the 2019-20 Budget of the Unified Police Department. I and my fellow mayors from Holladay, Midvale and Millcreek who serve with me on the UPD Board sent a letter to Sheriff Rosie Rivera requesting that the budget incorporate a 10.75 percent raise for UPD personnel. We proposed a 25 percent reduction to Regional Services to offset that requested increase for salaries.

Our reasoning was that with the communities of Herriman and Riverton recently leaving the UPD, a corresponding budget decrease to Regional Services is needed. We also strongly believe that a raise is needed for personnel at this time so that communities are able to maintain employee retention and recruitment efforts.

Public safety, which represents about 42 percent of our Taylorsville budget, is critical for our city, which is why the City Council and I are committed to getting the very best service we can. (See the Council's related column on Page 3).

We want to support the efforts that our men and women in blue make every day to keep us safe. They are people of the highest caliber. I point to the willingness of all UPD captains and precinct chiefs to sacrifice during this budget process as example. In an incredible gesture of good faith, the UPD captains and chiefs indicated they were "willing to forgo any proposed compensation increases in the 2019-2020 budget, if it would result in securing larger raises for the remainder of our sworn officers."

The UPD Board finalized this year's budget at the end of this past month, and while the raises sought were less than I would have liked, I have learned much from this process—foremost how lucky we are to have such dedicated police personnel who genuinely care for our residents and our safety.

—Mayor Kristie S. Overson

City's New Website is Now Live

Taylorsville City's new website went live on June 28. Look for a new site that is user-friendly, easier to navigate and puts all the information you need about the city in a format that is accessible and intuitive.

Work on the new site started last year with a community survey asking what residents were looking for. The top reasons respondents indicated for visiting the city's website included: events, information, ordinances, contacts, agendas and phone numbers. Website users also mentioned wanting more photos showing the community, easier access to events and meetings, and local business directories.

Based on that feedback, the website was designed to provide better search features, more apparent department buttons, easy-to-find information about the city, and updated links. The design includes attractive graphic elements and beautiful photography that serve as a showcase of the community. In addition, city employees have worked to streamline information and prune outdated content.

The updated design, graphics and photography make the site an attractive place for residents to spend time browsing, while also promoting a positive image of our city to visitors coming across Taylorsville while searching the Internet. We hope you like it!

COUNCIL CORNER

By Council Member Ernest Burgess

If we don't feel safe in our community, none of the other work we do as a City Council really matters. Public safety is the foundation. It is the first building block to ensuring the quality of life of any community, and it is a city council's primary responsibility to put in place the steps to provide that protection.

It is a responsibility we take very seriously. When you think about the role of community governance, maintaining and supporting a strong police force is vital. It's an issue that requires continuous assessment to make sure we are doing everything we can do in the right way.

It is the main reason why we decided in 2012 to move away from providing police services through an in-house Taylorsville City police force to contracting with the Unified Police Department. Without question, it was the right decision. The model simply makes sense. We are able to do so much more by pooling resources. By contracting with UPD, we provide greater coverage in the area of public safety than we could ever do alone, and when it comes to fighting crime itself, the progress we've made since joining UPD is undeniable.

The trend line for overall crime in the city has declined significantly and continues to go down. According to the most recent quarterly report, all crime totals remain well below previous years. Several individual offense categories also have measurably declined this year compared to last, including 27 percent fewer assaults and 28 percent fewer burglaries.

Early on in his administration, Taylorsville UPD Precinct Chief Tracy Wyant envisioned and put in place a Street Crimes Unit that has paid dividends in reducing crime. Chief Wyant's philosophy is pragmatic, even "market driven," and it's worked. "Make it more expensive for criminals to operate here than other places," is the thinking. "And what does it do? It makes them leave."

Public Safety is Our No. 1 Priority

We must have an adequate police force to protect our city. That is why securing competitive pay for our officers has been so important to us as a Council and for our Mayor. We especially must be competitive in relationship to neighboring agencies. Consider this, for instance: Murray City pays a starting pay of $7 more for officers right off the bat. It is a gap that we hope and intend to close. We want to keep the outstanding officers we have, and we must pay a competitive wage to recruit exceptional personnel.

Fortunately, we did not have to raise taxes this year to maintain our current levels of policing. But this year's budget includes no new officers and the pay raises proposed by the sheriff's department, which oversees operations of UPD, was smaller than we hoped. It is something we will be keeping a close eye on in the future and as we form our mid-year budget.

As a Council, we want to commend the outstanding work Chief Wyant has been doing. He was recognized recently with the city's highest Award of Excellence at our recent Awards Banquet. The award noted how the chief is "constantly working to build relationships within the community."

"He attends every community event he can and has made it a priority to especially support the youth in Taylorsville. Not only do his efforts prevent crime but they promote pride in our community," Mayor Kristie Overson noted in presenting the award.

We also want to thank Mayor Overson, who serves as Finance Committee Chair on the UPD Board. At the request of the City Council, she has championed with 100 percent fidelity the position of including a significant raise for officers in the UPD budget. She has spent countless hours in negotiation with the sheriff's office in trying to secure that raise.

Going forward, we will continue to focus our efforts on this critical issue. There is no other matter of greater importance to us.

City Council Surprises Residents with 'Notices'

The Taylorsville City Council wants to recognize the good work happening across the city. Residents are contributing in so many ways – from keeping yards looking tidy, to helping neighbors, to volunteering in the city. It all adds up to big impact.

"Our residents are making such a difference in making Taylorsville a great place to live," said Council Member Meredith Harker. "We wanted them to know that we see this good work and we greatly appreciate it."

Toward that end, City Council Members and the Mayor have begun surprising residents with "We Noticed" certificates. With each certificate, recipients are invited to attend a City Council meeting to be formally recognized and receive a gift card to a Taylorsville restaurant as a token of their appreciation.

Jerry and Nancy Camp, who live in District 4, were among the first recipients. "They live in a corner house right in the entrance to our neighborhood and they are always working hard to keep it looking good," Harker said.

Council Members are handing out certificates in each of their districts, and Mayor Kristie Overson will make selections citywide.

YOU HAVE BEEN NOTICED!

The City Council and Mayor of Taylorsville recognize your good work in making our community a great place to live. As you are able within the next three months, please come to a City Council meeting, held the first and third Wednesdays of each month at City Hall, to be formally recognized and receive a gift card to a Taylorsville restaurant as a token of our appreciation.

Most Sincerely,

DAN ARMSTRONG, COUNCIL CHAIR

MEREDITH HARKER, COUNCIL VICE CHAIR

ERNEST BURGESS, COUNCIL MEMBER

KRISTIE OVERSON, MAYOR

BRAD CHRISTOPHERSON, COUNCIL MEMBER

Officers Commended for Work to Keep Taylorsville Safe

Several officers were recognized this past month by Unified Police Department Taylorsville Precinct Chief Tracy Wyant who presented each with a certificate before the City Council.

Receiving the Chief's Award were Officers Erica Austin and Dennis Decker and K9 Handle Aaron Lavin for their effective work in responding to an intense domestic violence situation. Their high-quality work enabled the Salt Lake County District Attorney's Office to quickly file charges in the case, Wyant said.

Officer Dan Christensen was honored as an Officer of the Month for his camaraderie and teamwork in training other officers. "Dan exhibits a positive attitude towards his job, his peers and the citizens he serves daily," Officer Chris Rieck wrote in nominating Christensen for the recognition.

Officer Nate Clark also received Officer of the Month honors for completing several cases that resulted in multiple felony arrests, as well as the seizure of six firearms and distributable amounts of narcotics.

"The City of Taylorsville is fortunate to have such a pro-active and capable law enforcement officer protecting its residents," Chief Wyant said.

The young sons of Patrol Officer Nate Clark came with their dad to City Hall where he was recognized as an Officer of the Month.

Officers Count Click It or Ticket Campaign as Success

Taylorsville law enforcement officers were integral in assisting the Utah High Patrol's Click it or Ticket campaign. The two-week period focusing on increased seat belt enforcement resulted in more than 100 traffic stops in Taylorsville alone last month. Enforcement locations in the city were set up at 2700 W. 5400 South and at 4700 S. Redwood Road. Taylorsville operation statistics include:

- 125 traffic stops
- 52 seat belt violations
- 7 child restraint violations
- 30 seat belt warnings
- 52 other violations (registration, insurance, distracted driving, suspended license, etc.)
- 17 other violation warnings
- 17 misdemeanor warrant notifications
- 1 impound
- 1 felony arrest

In all, the campaign involved 61 law enforcement agencies throughout the state who worked more than 615 overtime shifts to stop and educate motorists not wearing seat belts.

Airman from Taylorsville Honored for Saving Toddler

An Airman performed lifesaving intervention on a choking toddler at a restaurant on March 30 in San Antonio, Texas.

Airman First Class Tobias Titus, an Aerospace Medical technician in training at the Joint Base at San Antonio-Lackland, and his wife were having dinner when he noticed a mother and grandmother at an adjacent table attempting to dislodge a piece of food from a toddler's airway.

After hearing the mother say the child was not breathing and noticing the toddler beginning to turn blue, Titus quickly positioned himself to perform the Heimlich maneuver.

Airman First Class Tobias Titus, Aerospace Medical technician in training, was recognized by Maj. Gen. John J. DeGoes, 59th MDW commander, and Chief Master Sgt. Chuck Frizzell, 59th MDW command chief.

"I trusted my training," said Titus. "I saw someone who was in need of help and responded accordingly. I received great training from an exceptional team of instructors who taught us the skills we would need to save a life if such a situation should occur."

After delivering the first back blow, Titus saw a piece of food expel from the toddlers' mouth and the child began to cry.

Titus was recognized for his swift actions by Maj. Gen. John J. DeGoes, 59th MDW commander, and Chief Master Sgt. Chuck Frizzell, 59th MDW command chief on May 22.

Titus graduated from AMSA Phase II training in June and will be stationed at Utah's Hill Air Force Base as a certified Air Force medic. He is from Taylorsville, where his parents also live.

New Plan Launched to Revitalize Commercial Centers

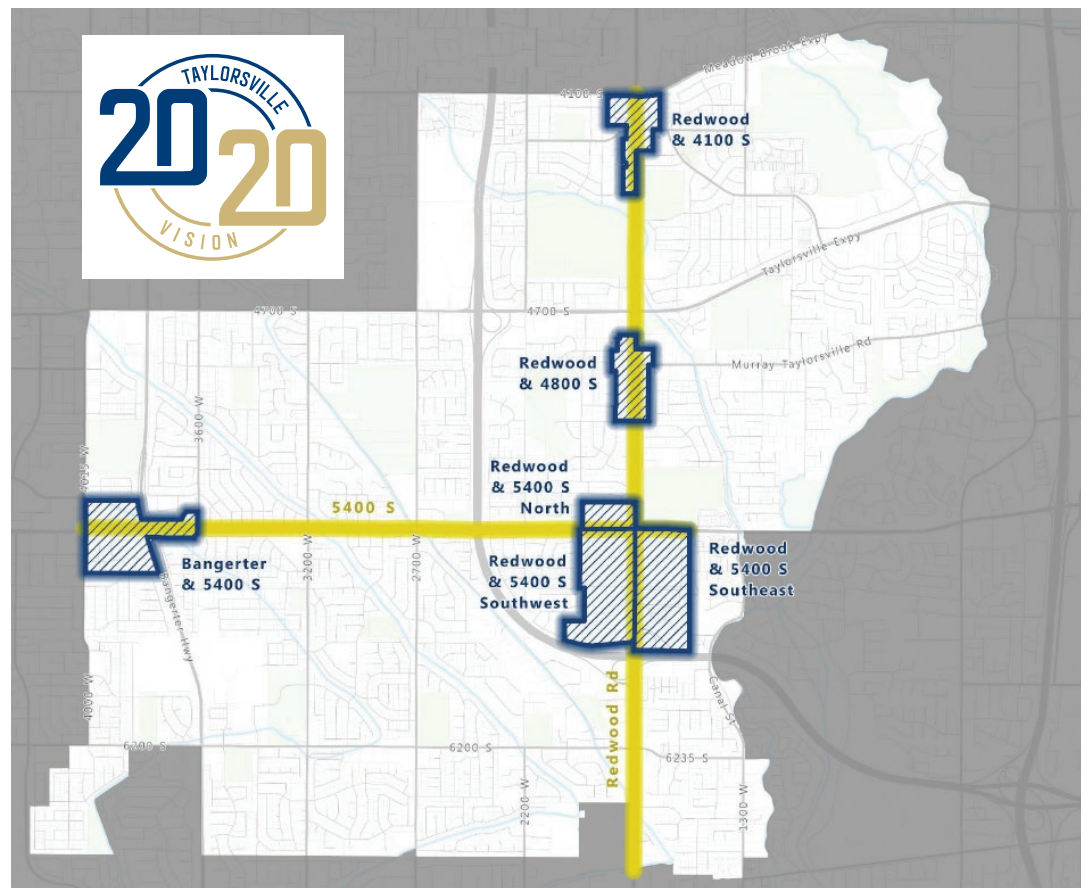

Taylorsville City has engaged with a team of local and national experts to develop a master plan for key commercial areas within the city. Led by MHTN, a local architecture and planning firm, the team includes VODA Landscape + Planning, Zions Bank Public Finance, Leland Consulting Group, Greensfelder Real Estate Strategy, and Fehr & Peers.

This Taylorsville Commercial Centers Master Planning and Revitalization Study will help the city create an attainable vision for strategic revitalization of its commercial centers while complimenting current amenities enjoyed by our residents.

Viable and vibrant centers are a necessary component to successful civic economic development and sustainability. Incorporated over 20 years ago, Taylorsville has seen rapid development and has limited developable land remaining. The creation of a revitalization plan, rooted in quality urban design, analysis, and data, is vital to creating a cohesive city strategy.

Capitalizing on existing and soon-to-be-developed community assets like the new Mid-Valley Regional Performing Arts Center and Midvalley Connector Bus Rapid Transit Line, the city can leverage these catalytic assets to transform and redevelop parts of the city into vibrant mixed-use centers.

There will be multiple opportunities for resident, business owners, and property owners to get involved in the planning process around the Commercial Centers Master Plan. Additional information about these opportunities will be distributed as it is available. For questions and to get involved, email TaylorsvilleCommercialCenters@mhtn.com.

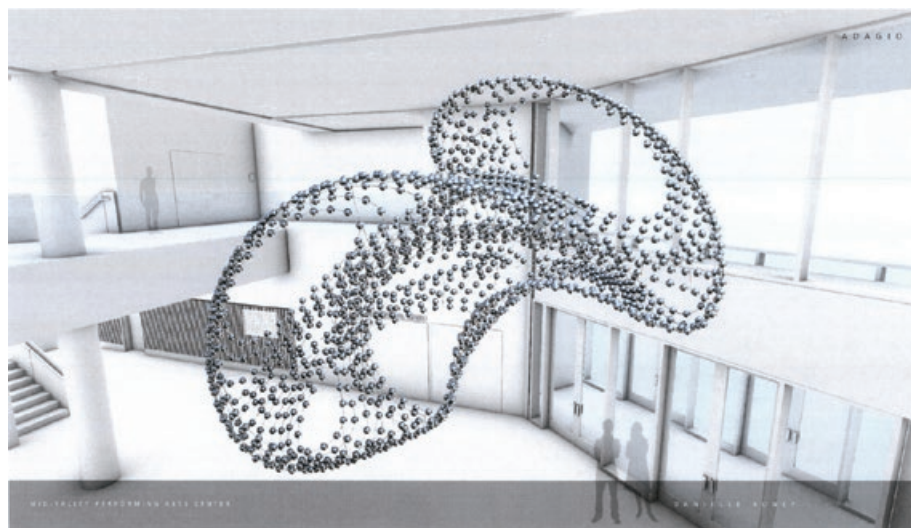

Public Art Sculpture Coming to Performing Arts Center

A beautiful, suspended sculpture will grace the lobby of the new Mid-Valley Performing Arts Center when it opens adjacent to City Hall in fall 2020.

The artwork, called Adagio, was designed by New York artist Danielle Roney. It will be 15 feet by 10 feet and sits 11 feet above the floor in the south lobby. In all, 1,343 polished stainless steel spheres will make up the sculpture to be installed in three separate pieces. Most of the fabrication will take place at Roney's studio in New York before it is shipped to Taylorsville and placed in the center.

The artwork "creates a satellite of movement that gently but powerfully engulfs and reflects a space of discovery," according to an artist's description of the piece. It is meant to reflect a dancer's movements, floating "effortlessly within the space as a satellite reflecting our individual and collective connections."

Representatives with the Salt Lake County Arts & Culture division unveiled designs of the work at a recent Taylorsville City Council meeting.

Taylorsville Bennion Heritage REMEMBRANCES

Have You Considered Volunteering? The Center Needs Your Help

The members of the Taylorsville Historic Preservation Committee are pleased to be able to host the grade-school classes that come to the Taylorsville Bennion Heritage Center on field trips every spring. The students are delightful, and center staff love to share the history of Taylorsville with them.

After the tour, students and teachers enjoy a picnic lunch on the lawn; and then they play old-fashioned games like tug-of-war and sack races. But the Heritage Center needs help. They are looking for people who would be willing to assist with special occasions like school field trips, Saturday with Santa: Christmas Around the World, spring cleaning, planting flowers and other fun activities.

Would you like to learn about the history of your community? Would you enjoy helping children learn about their community? Do you like to have fun? Center staff and volunteers will teach you the dates and places of Taylorsville, Bennion, and Over Jordan history as well as the stories that go with the dates and places. They will show you the ropes.

And then there is Saturday with Santa: Christmas Around the World. Christmas is all about fun. Kids of all ages can visit with Santa, see a live nativity, sip some hot chocolate, make some Christmas crafts, and participate in other fun activities. Saturday with Santa: Christmas Around the World takes place in early December, and what a great way to start off the Christmas season. The Taylorsville Bennion Heritage Center always needs volunteers to help with this program, as well.

If you are interested or would like more information, contact Joan White at 801-265-8478 or jwhyter@msn.com or Susan Yadeskie at 801-209-8435 or yadeskiess@ldschurch.org.

Sons of Pioneers Hosts Taylorsville Event

The Taylorsville-Bennion Chapter of the National Society of the Sons of Utah Pioneers is sponsoring an event in conjunction with the Days of '47.

On Monday, July 8, at 6:30 p.m., the chapter will host the Days of '47 Royalty, who will speak and perform at the Taylorsville-Bennion Heritage Center, 1488 W. 4800 South. The president of the National Society of the Sons of Utah Pioneers also will speak. The event is free, but the chapter asks that those attending bring their own chairs.

Taylorsville Code Enforcement Offers Some Summertime Reminders

Summertime is a great time for cleanup. Here are some tips from the city's Code Enforcement Department:

GARAGE SALES

With garage sale season upon us, keep in mind:

- There is a limit of two garage sales at a residence per calendar year (Jan. 1 to Dec. 31). They must be separated by at least 14 days and cannot last longer than 48 consecutive hours.
- If you are having a neighborhood garage sale, the material must be located at the residence of only one of the participating sellers.
- Please do not post your signs on any traffic signs, power poles or in a way that may obstruct traffic or pedestrian flow. Be sure to retrieve any signs that you post throughout the city once your sale is over. Please don't damage property with harsh adhesives and nails.
- Parking can also become an issue with garage sales. Please ask people to not park within 10 feet of mailboxes and most especially to not block the sidewalk.

Additional information regarding garage sale standards can be found on the city website under ordinance #13.11.130.

WEEDS AND THINGS

Due to the plentiful moisture this past winter and spring, the city is experiencing robust growth of vegetation.

Trees need to be trimmed to a height of 13.5 feet above the street and 7 feet above the sidewalk.

Vegetation should be trimmed back so it doesn't cover the sidewalk, and weeds must be trimmed to no longer than 6 inches.

Additional information regarding landscape maintenance can also be found on the city website under ordinances.

2019 NEIGHBORHOOD CLEANUP

With this year's Neighborhood Cleanup not happening until September, we'd like to urge you to take advantage of the two free dump vouchers per property. Those can be picked up at the administration desk at City Hall on the second floor, west end of the building.

Take These Steps to Help Control Pesky Mosquitoes

Unwelcome mosquitoes can make many summer outdoor activities less enjoyable. But familiarity with basic mosquito biology and some simple precautions can help reduce their negative impacts.

Mosquitoes complete the early stages of their life cycle in stagnant water in places ranging from ponds, marshy areas and irrigated pasture-lands, to gutters, cavities in trees and bird baths. During the summer, nearly any water left standing for at least one week can provide suitable conditions for larval mosquitoes to develop into adults.

Adult female mosquitoes take blood meals from vertebrate hosts to obtain protein required for egg production. In addition to causing an irritating allergic reaction, mosquito bites can facilitate disease transmission. West Nile virus is an example of a disease transmitted by mosquitoes in the Salt Lake Valley.

The South Salt Lake Valley Mosquito Abatement District (SSLVMAD) seeks to promote public health and quality of life by reducing the number of larval mosquitoes that develop to the adult stage. District technicians regularly inspect known larval mosquito habitat in the Salt Lake Valley and apply mosquito control measures as needed. Treatments targeting adult mosquitoes are also applied when appropriate.

You can help control the population of mosquitoes by:

- Eliminating unnecessary standing water from your property.
- Emptying and refreshing desirable standing water at least weekly.
- Treating livestock watering troughs and ornamental ponds with mosquito control products or fish (this service is available free of charge from the SSLVMAD).
- Reporting other standing water to the SSLVMAD.
- Additionally, the following suggestions can help you avoid being bitten by mosquitoes:
- Use mosquito repellents approved by the Environmental Protection Agency according to instructions on the product label.
- Wear light-colored, loose-fitting clothing that covers as much skin as possible when outdoors.
- Avoid outdoor activities during times of peak mosquito activity (between dusk and dawn for several species of mosquitoes including disease vectors known to occur in Utah).

The South Salt Lake Valley Mosquito Abatement District would like to wish everyone a safe and pleasant summer. For additional information about mosquitoes and mosquito control or to submit a request for service please visit www.sslvmad.org.

WASATCH FRONT Waste & Recycling District

JULY WFWRD UPDATES

FIREWORKS DISPOSAL

The summer holidays are here, and fireworks and barbecues are common ways to celebrate. Wasatch Front Waste & Recycling District is reminding all residents that fireworks and fire pit/barbecue ashes must be completely cooled before placing them in the waste cans. Smoldering fireworks or embers will melt the can and create a larger fire hazard.

WHY WE CONTINUE TO RECYCLE

Recycling is a Jobs Creator

Conservative estimated comparisons state that there are five to seven sustainability jobs to every one landfill job. Some estimates even go up to a 13 to one ratio. During the first quarter of 2019, an estimated 70 jobs have been created or sustained through recycling efforts.

Recycling Saves Energy

When you chose to recycle your clean materials, you save energy! Every can, bottle, and scrap of paper tossed into the recycling bin equals power not being used to mine, harvest, and extract raw resources. Through March of this year, residents of the district have saved enough energy equivalent to lighting 830 homes.

Recycling Prevents Pollution

Due to residents' efforts, over 44 million pounds of material has been recycled in 2018. Manufacturing with recycled materials create less pollution when compared to using raw resources. That amount of pollution prevented via recycling is the same as not driving 58.5 million miles.

For more information and guides on recycling, please visit WasatchFrontWaste.org.

REMOVE YOUR CANS FROM THE STREET AFTER COLLECTION

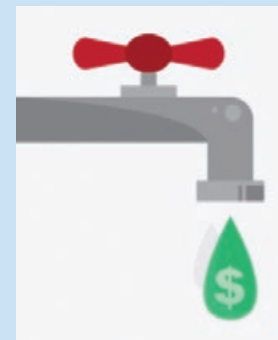

Salt Lake County Health Department Sanitation Regulations (Regulation #7, paragraph 4.3.2) state that "containers shall not be set out on the street prior to the evening of the day before the scheduled collection. All containers shall be removed from the street the same day they are emptied." Please keep your neighborhood streets clean by quickly removing your waste/recycle/green waste/glass collection cans from the street and public access ways after collection.

Continuous Flow? Save Money by Repairing Leaks

Is your landscape sprinkler stop-and-waste valve or sprinkler valves leaking? Does your toilet tank continue to fill time after time? Is the kitchen sink doing that drip, drip, drip thing? If you received a notice in the message box on your bill it means the water meter has registered a continuous flow of water to your property for more than 15 consecutive days.

This may indicate a leak in your system, small or large, that is increasing your usage. Take the time this summer to find and repair those unknown leaks in your plumbing system that will save water and your money.

If you have any questions, please contact the Taylorsville-Bennion Improvement District at 801-968-9081 or visit its Continuous Flow website page at www.tbid.org for additional information.

Road Work Wrapping up on 5400 South, Continues at 6200 South

Road construction along 5400 South between 1500 West and Bangerter Highway is expected to wrap up this month. The project, which started May 6, has involved removing and replacing the asphalt pavement and upgrading curb, gutter and pedestrian ramps. It's expected to conclude July 19.

Construction work also is taking place at 6200 South and Bangerter to relocate an aqueduct in preparation of the new interchange next year. UDOT will relocate a segment of the Jordan Aqueduct that extends north and south. Work on the aqueduct relocation started in May and will be completed in December. The actual pipe will be coming soon.

The 6200 South Interchange is expected to be complete in 2020. Noise walls will stay up during the new pipe installation.
